MARCHING ORDER COUNTERMANDED

President Cuts Out Escort Given Father Sherman.

The South Regarded the March as an Insult and Feeling Was Growing.

REPRESENTATIVES GET MAD

Washington, D. C., May 2 .- General satisfaction is expressed by the Southern senators over the prompt H. Fort, president, sucd for an inaction of President Roosevelt in countermanding Gen. Duvall's order providing a cavalry escort for Rev. Father Sherman over the route followed by Gen. Sherman on his famous march to the sea. Senator Bacon of Georgia, said Father Sherman will be welcomed by the people of Georgia, but a cavalry escort would be an insult to the same peo-

Remnants of Costly Articles Found in Piles of Ashes on Lawn of St. Francis Hotel.

PITIFUL SIGHTS ON THE STREET

San Francisco, May 2 .- Standing in any of the many bread lines, one may see curious and diversified humanity in all its forms. One man richly dressed and known all over California as one of the wealthiest bankers of the United States, stood in his place, supporting himself with his gold-headed cane.

When he reached the head of the line, and the soldiers ordered him roughly to take his portion of bread, the old gentleman, with a smile of satisfaction, took two loaves under his arm and stepped contentedly along the street toward his ruined home. He was I. W. Hellman, president of more banks and trust corpo rations than any other one man on the Pacific coast. He laughed as he than to sell a whole city street rail-

Hickman, Ky., May 2 .- Hickman was represented at San Francisco at the time of the earthquake. Roy and Arch Hertwick, sons of Otto Hertwick, were in the city at the time. Much uneasiness was felt about them at first, but a telegram has been received stating that they escaped unstroyed and all their personal belongings. Just across the bay at Berkeley the two granddaughters of Mrs. McCutcheon, Misses Jennie and Ethel Parker, were attending college. A message was received that they were safe. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Henderson and children, who were in California on a pleasant trip are reported safe.

Mr. J. K. Hendrick is expected back from Murray, Ky., tonight. Mr. Wm. Marble will be in Eddyville the rest of this week.

Oldest Woman Known Thought God Had Forgotten Her Because Death Didn't Claim Her.

Uniontown, Pa., May 2 .- Mary McKittrick, aged 108, so far as known the oldest woman in America, committed suicide at the home of er son, Luke McKittrick, an octogenarian, near this city, by cutting her throat with a carving knife. She had been in ill health for several weeks and her mind had failed. She declard God had forgotten her and had neglected to call her, although all those she knew in her girlhood and womanhood before the oldest of old men and women now living were born, had all gone to their last

Mrs. McKittrick was born in County Kildage, Ireland, March 17, 1798 The fact of her birth is duly recorded in the parish registry and the authenticity of her claims to being one of the oldest if not the oldest person in America are well established. She remained in Ireland until a very old woman, Her children had all emigrated to this country many years before, had reared families and had died of old age. All the people she had known had died, and she was left alone in the old home in county Kildare among strangers. Her son Luke McKittridge, a substantial far mer in Fayette county, went to Ireland in the early eighties andbrought his mother to this country to spend the remainder of her years. She was then nearly 80 years of age, and i was not thought that her days would be many in the land to which she had emigrated in her old age. But she lived on, and when she passed the century mark Fayette county turned out to do her honor. After that each recurring birthday was a fete day in

At the Fourth of July celebration in Uniontown last year she was an honor guest. She refused to attend the celebration unless she was ridden in an automobile. She wanted to ride in one of the "new-fangled" conveyances. Her wish was gratified, March 17 last, when her birthday was cele brated, she danced an Irish jig, "to show what a good old Irish woman could do," she said. But her hear longed for old Ireland Her thoughts turned back to the hills of Dunmurry and the banks of the Boyne, to the antiquities of Punchestown and Jigginstown, and the other historic spots in Kildare. But little more than a month ago her health failed. Her digestive system seemed to become paralyzed and her mind failed.

She talked of the old home, of the great Curragh common and thesheep that fed on it. She wanted to be back again in the scenes she knew a century ago. She said God had over-looked her and she feared he was going to let her live forever. This morning, when members of the family went to her room to see how she was getting along, they found her dead. She cut her throat with a carvknife she had taken from the kitchen.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, but it will probably be held Friday, and a great outpouring of the people of Fayette county is aniticipated.

HAVE KICK COMING.

Residents of West Jefferson Complain of Tardy Pavement Work.

County Judge Lightfoot was "say ing things" yesterday afternoon about the methods employed by contrac tors who secured the West End pavement contract beyond Fountain avenue on Jefferson street.

"The contractors got this contract some time ago and have started grading," he stated. "They have dug down three feet, caused some of us to take up our fences, while other fences have fallen down from the excavations, and we are in a very sad plight. The contractors have now announced they will not do any more work on this contract for two months.

"I later learned that they have cone to work in another sectionthe Harahan addition I believe-and I do not think the action is a judicious one. There are residents placed at an inconvenience in the former case and none in the latter."

Telegraph Offices Open.

The Western Union reports direct and regular service with San Francisco today. The Postal also has opened in its old office in that city. Owing to the number of people that left the city and to the generdisarranged conditions it is e hard to locate people r. this trouble is being grad-

But how is such a rule to be enforced? How will the proprietor know whether the girls have pockets in their dresses or not? The average man certainly does not know whether a lady has or has not pockets. The lady herself is often at a loss to find the pocket which she knows exists. The proprietor of the store must accept the statement of an employe whether there is a pocket in her dress. No doubt this statement will ordinarily be correct, but only in the case of those who will not make improper use of a pocket. The mploye who desires to use a pocket to conceal stolen goods will, of will the proprietor know whether she is telling the truth or not? He is likely to realize that he has at-

PLAIN FACTS

Cleanliness is accepted as a rule of self-preservation in every reputable brewery.

N experienced brewer would no more A boast of the purity of his beer than a gentleman would brag of having washed his face.

Purity signifies nothing more than the absence of foreign matter.

For that reason brewers who do not dare to test the substantial merits of beer always harp on purity.

A really first-class beer must; however not alone be free from self-evident defects. but it must combine all the positive excellencies known to the science of brewing.

THE TRUE TEST IS ALL-ROUND QUALITY which cannot be had without SUPERIOR MATERIALS, PERFECT TREATMENT and AMPLE STORING CAPACITY.

Upon this issue of positive superiority we challenge all competitors.

Of materials we use only the most excellent, regardless of cost. Corn, the one important substitute, which, on account of its cheapness, has been extensively adopted, never enters our brewery.

Our facilities for brewing beer are unequaled.

Our storing capacity of 600,000 barrels doubles any other brewery in the United States, and enables us to store our beer from four to five months.

Facts speak louder than words. Publicity is the demand of the day. The consumer is entitled to the truth.
